The President's Proclamation

We received last evening a copy of this document which accompanied the message and which our readers will be anxious to peruse It presents a mode of solving the difficulties, which have been supposed to surround the present situation of the insurgent States, and to our mind, the plan certainly appears more fair, more feasible and more consistent with the rights of repentant rebels than any which has been before suggested It wisely guards against the possibility of allowing the active leaders in treason to participate in the reorganization of the States in which they belong and we trust will do much to restore confidence in the Government in the minds of those who are sick of the rebellion, and desire an honorable peace When ever in a State, one tenth of those who voted at the election in 1860, shall, by taking the required oath, signify their fidelity that number can restore the State to the Union and set its local machinery in motion and such action will be recognized as that of the true Government of the State

The proclamation distinctly insists upon keeping good faith with those who have gained freedom by virtue of Executive action and will not, we presume, in that respect be objectionable to that class of philanthropists who have pressed the Territorial scheme, as the only one which could keep the slaves from going back to servitude

This definite project suggested by the President, is now added to those which have already caused animated and angry debate We like it better than either of the others whether it is the best, or better than either of these, may not be found, time and fair discussion will shortly show.

THE PROCLAMATION

WASHINGTON, December 8, 1863.

Whereas, in and by the Constitution of the United States it is provided that the President shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for all offenses against the United States, except in cases of impeachment, and whereas, a rebellion now exists whereby the loyal States and the Governments of the several States have, for a long time been subverted, and many persons have been committing and are now guilty of treason against the United States, and whereas, with reference to said rebellion and treason, laws have been enacted by Congress calling for the forfeiture and confiscation of property and the liberation of slaves, all upon terms and conditions therein stated, and also declaring that the President was thereby authorized at any time thereafter, by proclamation to extend to persons who may have participated in the existing rebellion in any State or part thereof, pardon, or amnesty, with such exceptions and on such terms and on such conditions as he may deem expedient for the public welfare, and whereas, the Congressional declaration for limited and conditional pardon accords with well established judicial exposition of the pardoning power, and whereas, with reference to said rebellion the President of the United States has issued several proclamations with provisions in regard to the liberation of slaves and whereas, it is now desired by some persons heretofore engaged in said rebellion to resume their allegiance to the United States and re inaugurate loyal State Governments within and for their respective States—

Therefore, I, Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States, do proclaim, declare and make known to all persons who have directly or by implication participated in the existing rebellion, except as hereinafter excepted, that a full pardon is granted to them and each of them, with restoration of all rights, if third parties shall have intervened, and upon the condition that they—such persons—shall take and subscribe an oath, and thenceforward keep and maintain said oath inviolate, and which oath shall be registered for permanent preservation, and shall be of the tenor and effect following, to wit:

"I do solemnly swear, in presence of Almighty God, that I will henceforth faithfully support, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Union of States thereunder, and that I will in like manner abide by and faithfully support all Acts of Congress passed during the existing rebellion with reference to slaves so long and so far as not modified or repealed, or held void by Congress or by a decision of the Supreme Court, and that I will in like manner abide by and faithfully support all proclamations of the President made during the existing rebellion having reference to slaves, so long and so far as not modified or declared void by a decision of the Supreme Court so help me God!"

The persons excepted from the benefits of the foregoing provisions are all who are, or shall have been, civil or diplomatic officers or agents of the so called Confederate Government all who have left judicial stations under the United States to aid the rebellion, all who are, or shall have been, military or naval officers of or above the rank of Colonel in the army, or Lieutenant in the navy, all who left seats in the United States Congress to aid in the rebellion, all who resigned their commissions in the army and navy of the United States and afterwards aided the rebellion and all who have engaged in any way in treating colored persons or white persons in charge of such, otherwise than lawfully as prisoners of war, and which persons may be found in the United States service as soldiers, seamen, or in any other capacity.

And I do further proclaim, declare, and make known, that whenever in any of the States of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina and North Carolina, a number of persons not less than one tenth of the number of the votes cast in such State at the Presidential election of the year of our Lord 1860—each having taken the oath aforesaid and not having since violated it, being a qualified voter by the election laws of the State existing immediately before the so called act of Secession and excluding all others—shall be established a State Government which shall be republican, and in nowise contravening said oath, such shall be recognized as the true government of the State and the State shall receive thereunder the benefits of the constitutional provision which declares that the United States shall guarantee to every State in the Union a republican form of Government, and shall protect each of them against invasion or on application of the Legislature, or the Executive when the Legislature cannot be convened against domestic violence. Sec 3—I do further proclaim, declare and make known that any provision which may be adopted by such State Government in relation to the freed people of such State which has or which shall recognize and declare their permanent freedom, and provide for their education, and which may yet be consistent as a temporary arrangement with their present condition as a laboring, landless and homeless class, will not be objected to by the National Executive And it is suggested as not improper that in constructing a loyal State Government in any State the name of the State, the boundary, the subdivisions, the constitution and the general code of laws as before the rebellion be maintained subject only to modifications made necessary by the conditions hereinbefore stated and such others if any not contravening said conditions and which may be deemed expedient by those framing the new State Government.

To avoid misunderstanding it may be proper to say that this proclamation, so far as it relates to State Governments, has no reference to States wherein loyal State Governments have all the while been maintained. And for the same reason it may be proper to further say that whether members sent to Congress from any State shall be admitted to seats constitutionally rests exclusively with the respective Houses and not to any extent with the Executive. And still further that this proclamation is intended to present the people of the States wherein the National authority has been suspended and loyal State Governments have been subverted a mode in and by which the National authority and loyal State Governments may be re established within said States or in any of them And while the mode presented is the best the Executive can suggest with his present impressions it must not be understood that no other possible mode would be accepted

Given under my hand at the City of Washington the 8th of December A D 1863, and of the Independence of the United States of America the 88th

NONE SO BLIND AS THOSE WHO WON'T SEE —Northern Democratic papers, while growling like angry bears at the splendid results of the late elections, are imputing them to every cause but the true one They seem determined not to see that their defeat is simply the decided expression of popular disapproval of their wickedness and treason It ought to make them wise, even in their mad sorrow and shame it ought to teach them that the masses are always patriotic in times of national peril, and that they will more readily excuse and forgive the blunders of those in power if the main intent is right than they will the efforts of opponents to distract and divide the country's strength, and thus give encouragement to the foe, and also it should teach them and teach everybody that a party or political leaders that occupy an equivocal position in any matter touching the integrity or the security of the Republic, are certain to be overthrown and discarded. These are the lessons to be derived from the recent action of the people let all concerned, take heed if they wish to avoid the storm of popular wrath, which is sure to sweep out of being all men or parties that oppose the Government in time of war

AN EXPOSE OF TRAITORS —In a late letter of Thomas Francis Meagher to the Dublin Irishman, the following "anecdote" appears

An anecdote is sometimes worth a volume of history and logic Here is one that displays broadly, in the clearest light, the purpose and character of the southern rebellion The month of August immediately preceding the election of Mr Lincoln Mr Toombs and Mr Cobb of Georgia—both well and widely known abroad as well as at home, as politicians of considerable influence and ability, and as accomplished gentlemen, occupying high social as well as high political position in the south—paid a visit to New York A day or two after their arrival they dined with a gentleman you are familiar with, and who wields extraordinary power, while occupying a similar conspicuous position, as a public man I give you his name in a private note, for although he told me the circumstances I am now relating, without any reservation, and without intimating in the least that the information was confidential, I do not feel myself at liberty to introduce his name in this letter, which is destined to find its way into your columns, in case neither an iceberg nor an ironclad buccaneer from Birkenhead overhauls it on the ocean

Well, at the dinner referred to, in reply to the protests of this gentleman against the avowed determination of the South to secede, in the event of Mr Lincoln being made President, Mr Toombs declared that the south should not remain a day in the Union under a Republican Administration, since the acceptance of such an Administration would republicanize the slave States

'Why not wait for some overt act of Mr Lincoln against the South—something positive and tangible—to justify your assertions that it will be a government of sectionalism and encroachment, and it will disregard and set at naught the obligations imposed upon it by the Constitution?'

"That" Mr Toombs replied, "is what we cannot afford to do It would be fatal to the south, as a political power based upon slavery, to permit the experiment Should we recognize Mr Lincoln as our President, and suffer him to exercise authority in the slave States, he would very soon build up in them a Republican party, by his dispensation of the Federal patronage He would have, of course, to appoint, from those who elected him, Collectors of the Port, Custom House officers, District Attorneys, United States Marshals, Postmasters and Mail Agents, and every one of these officers could at once become Republicans if they were not Republicans before, and a multitude of subordinates would swell the list in no time A party, more or less hostile to slavery would grow up and spread itself amongst us, and the South could never again hope to have the undivided sway it had'

In other words, the aristocrats of the South—the Masons, Cobbs, Hunters, Slidells, Prestons and Breckinridges—would have to relinquish their monopoly of Washington, and take a fair chance, in the convention for public honors and the magistracy of the nation, with their less patrician fellow citizens of the North and West Rather than do this, they must set up a Republic for themselves, in which they may rest assured of an undisturbed enjoyment of official power, and prolong far into the autumn of their days their mid summer delights of statesmanship and diplomacy

THE Boise News is evidently not up to "Chinook," and gives the following at its own expense and that of Rev C S Kingsley, of Portland

'OREGON LATIN —Rev Mr Kingsley called on us on Thursday morning, and announced that he would 'wa wa' in the evening at Union Hall Under the impression that the word meant something connected with the liturgy or some other religious observance to which an outsider might not be a proper spectator, we staid away only to ascertain when it was too late that the Rev gentleman had made a patriotic speech, and that in the classic Chinook 'wa wa' signifies talk"

HOW HE UNDERSTOOD IT —A Chinese boy, who is learning English, came across the passage in the Testament, 'We have piped unto you and ye have not danced" rendered it thus We have toot, toot to you, what's the matter you no jump?"

Governor Gibbs' Reply to the Citizens of Canyon City

PORTLAND, Oregon Dec 1[illegible] 1863

To ROBERT W [illegible], and twenty seven others

Gentlemen —Your communication, dated Canyon City Wasco county Dec 8, 186[illegible], is received

You complain that you have not had the necessary protection from hostile Indians and that you desire me to use my influence to have your section of Wasco county exempted from the enrollment now being made in that county Should I conclude it was my duty so to do, such exemption could only be made by Act of Congress and the enrollment will be completed before such action could be had

As to your request for troops to be stationed in your section I am not aware that any such request was made until the campaign for the Boise country was organized and under way It is to be regretted that there has not been a sufficient number of troops in this military district to protect all points

In January last I issued a proclamation under the authority of the commander of this military department, calling for six additional companies of cavalry

Recruiting officers were stationed at different places in the State, but there was not as hearty a response to the call as the exigencies required, and only one company was raised Most of the enlisted men were obtained in the most unexposed part of the State and not one was received from your section To provide against emergencies, in my last message I urged the Legislative Assembly to pass a law for the organization of the militia of the State A good law was passed Brigade and regimental officers were promptly appointed, but no effort has been made to organize a company in your locality

I do not see how I could have done more than I have done to place the State in a condition of defence from savages or traitors Nor do I think the military officers of the United States to blame for not furnishing more ample protection All points could not be protected without troops any more than the Israelites could make bricks without straw

Col Maury's regiment has returned from the Boise expedition, and I shall use my influence to have troops sent, as early as practicable, to chastise hostile Indians in your vicinity, and to keep open the communication from the Dalles to Boise on that route It is very desirable that peace should be preserved on this coast Any other condition can only work greater or less injury to ourselves, and can have little or no influence in the result of the wicked rebellion now raging in the East From recent rumors in relation to the "enrollment" from your section of the State I respectfully call your attention to the following

The 25th Section of Act of March 3, 1863, concerning enrollment and calling into service of the National forces provides

"That if any person shall resist any draft of men enrolled under this Act into the service of the United States, or shall counsel or aid any person to resist any such draft, or in the performance of any service in relation thereto, or shall counsel any person to assault or obstruct any such officer, or shall counsel any drafted men not to appear at the place of rendezvous, or willfully dissuade them from the performance of military duty as required by law, such person shall be subject to summary arrest by the Provost Marshal, and shall be forthwith delivered to the civil authorities and upon conviction thereof, by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding two years, or by both of said punishments"

The enrollment is a "service to be performed by the Provost Marshal" and his assistants "in relation to draft," and is the first step that must by law be taken preparatory to draft It is therefore clearly within the duty of the Provost Marshal to subject all persons who "obstruct" the enrollment to summary arrest according to the provisions of said section There are many ways of obstructing officers in the discharge of their duties under said act, without employing force The neglect or refusal to do an act required by law to be done, may itself be such an "obstruction" as to subject the offenders to arrest Standing mute in civil courts, is, under certain circumstances, a punishable offence, and so, if a person, with intent to prevent the draft refuses to give his true name when legally requested so to do, by an officer whose duty it is to ascertain and enroll it, it is an obstruction of that officer in the performance of one of his duties in relation to the draft So, also, of the giving of false names with the same illegal intent, and the offender will, in either case, be subject to summary arrest by the Provost Marshal

To do any act which will prevent or impede the enrollment of the National forces is to prevent or impede the draft

The offenders when so arrested will be turned over to the U S Marshal of this State, and detained until a trial can be had in the U S District Court for Oregon There is now ample military power on this coast to arrest any persons who may be so foolish as to violate any provisions of said Act If the Provost Marshal requires assistance he may call upon the military authorities of the U S in this District Should this force be insufficient there are eleven companies of organized militia in this State, and over one hundred companies in California ready and willing to assist

But when will a certain class of our citizens cease to be duped and excited by designing demagogues, who for political purposes have been saying for more than twelve months—"the draft has been ordered—it will begin next month—they will draft at the State Fair don't go—they are drafting now up country—how would you like to see your son manacled and marched South to fight your Southern brethren"—and the like

Gentlemen, I assure you that no draft has been ordered in Oregon, and there is no more prospect of it now than there was a year ago Every government even in time of peace, has a right to know its military strength and for that purpose enrollment is now being made

Every citizen owes as much of his military service to the government as is necessary to preserve it, as much as he owes his taxes to support it

The draft may or may not be ordered in future—there is no prospect of it at present One of the shortest ways to bring it on is for our citizens to refuse to obey the laws If it is ordered, it can and will be enforced in this State and in every part of it I feel justified in saying that if a draft is ever ordered in this State, abundant opportunity will be given for the enlisting of the number of men called for before drafting will be commenced Again that no men will ever be sent from this coast "to fight their Southern brethren A regiment of a thousand men in California some time since offered their services to the Government to go East and defend the flag of our country, but owing to the expenses of moving them so far their offer was not accepted

You have made more urgent demands for troops than any other persons and it more are indispensable to keep in check marauding bands of Indians or to arrest and punish traitors, who would destroy our Government—insult its officers and drive them from duty, and if they cannot be levied by enlistment, no good citizen can reasonably object to a draft

I am sorry to say that those who are most [illegible] have done the least to encourage enlistments

Gentlemen, I think the Federal Union must be preserved [illegible] the lands of Indians and those who violate the laws of the Union must ought to be punished, and I assure you I will do all I can for the accomplishment of both

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
A C GIBBS

THERE is no other way to cure diseases but by first purifying the whole system so as to create a healthy circulation.

The first medical men of the age agree with us that no disease of any extent can be cured without using such medicines as will act directly upon the blood Why many medical men have failed to cure chronic diseases is, because the medicines used have not been such as will act beneficially on the blood

The many thousands of bottles which have been used by the public, and the many gallons and barrels supplied to the physicians, will aid us in saying that the last two years we have been more successful with our Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup in curing hopeless cases of chronic diseases than have any other remedies in the hands of physicians, or before the public

It is now admitted that no combination known to the profession, acts so promptly upon disease as our SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP

REMOVAL —The Office and Printing Establishment of the OREGONIAN Daily and Weekly Newspaper have been removed to Carter's new brick block, corner of Front and Washington streets up stairs Entrance on Washington street, first door from corner

RUMOR OF PEACE —The only dispatch in the Union received last night is from

San Francisco, D[illegible] 20th —The following dispatch has been received by a commercial firm here [illegible] New York, Dec [illegible] —Report of peace [illegible] Probabilities [illegible] Expect gold to fall [illegible] [This intelligence is most improbable —Ed [illegible]]

It is not unlikely that some sharp speculator has a large supply of greenbacks on hand, bought at low rates, which he is ready to dispose of at an advance of five or ten per cent When the glad tidings of peace comes, we shall not hear it first or solely through money dealers

SCHOOL RECEPTION —The pupils of the Public School will give an entertainment on next Wednesday, commencing at 1 o'clock, P M Visitors will be treated to a variety of exercises in vocal music, composition, declamation and dialogue "The parents, friends of the pupils, school directors and Superintendent of Public Instruction are cordially invited to be present"

The REVOLUTION WROUGHT BY THE REBELLION —John Fitch, Esq, formerly editor of the Alton Democrat, but who has been for several months past connected with the Army of the Cumberland, in a communication to his old paper, thus describes the change which has been wrought in the army within the last year

What a "big thing" is the war in Tennessee. It makes all the travel and trade in that region It is feeding and clothing the city of Nashville and, for that matter Louisville also It is absorbing the negro institution almost entire. A year has brought about a revolution Twelve months ago negroes were not allowed to come into our army lines being considered an expense and a nuisance Now we send out guards to sweep the country for them, to build roads, cut wood, drive teams, and to make soldiers of them

At Estella Springs near Tullahoma, I saw a negro regiment of 1,200 men, on drill Another regiment now forming at Nashville has 600 members When the army gets into central Georgia where negroes are thick, a large business will be done in that line So far as my observation goes army Democrats vie with their comrades of any other political hue, in this army use of these peculiar South ern chattels The war has destroyed old names and the force of epithets, and in soldiers parlance, to have the least regard for slavery is to be a 'd—d nasty!'

THE WOUNDED IN OUR BATTLES —We have now in the United States at least 235 general hospitals for the use of the soldiers, containing about 80,000 patients To show on what a large scale our battles have been fought, as we do everything else, it seems that during four months of 1862 there were treated at our hospitals 20,930 cases of gunshot wounds. The wounded of the whole British army in the Crimean war was only a little over 12,000, and their entire hospital accommodations in the three years would not have sufficed for the wounded at either of the battles of Shiloh, Antietam or Gettysburg —Newark Advertiser

"It can't be possible, Mrs. Smith! That this elegant cloak you have was embroidered in so exquisite a manner in a single day, and by a Sewing Machine, at that? It seems the labor of weeks, and is really charming in its elaborateness and perfection I perceive you have combined both embroidery and braiding with great taste and effect."

"Yes, it was accomplished easily in a day, and to the owner of a "Grover & Baker" Sewing Machine, it is a task transformed into a pleasure, for it requires no more skill to embroider than for ordinary sewing, and is the most desirable, fashionable and elegant trimming conceivable for my own and children's garments.

CRINOLINE vs. WORK.—The inconveniences of crinoline have been found so great in the Staffordshire potteries that the principal manufacturers, the Copelands, the Mintons and others, have forbidden the use of crinoline on their premises during the hours of work In one shop alone the losses by breakage of articles swept down by them amounted to £200 a year. The workshops became too small, and the work was impeded. The work women have submitted to the change with almost entire unanimity and goodwill, and now enter upon their work in garments like those of Greek statues

SUN PROMISE AND MOON PERFORMANCE.—A hen pecked husband writes "Before marriage, I fancied wedded life would be all sunshine, but afterward I found out that it was all moonshine"

Scrofula Cured.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 7, 1863.

MESSRS. A. L. SCOVILL & Co—Gents: My son, who is now seven years old, has been afflicted with SCROFULA for more than two years. It first made its appearance in small knots on the glands of the neck, under the skin. Our family physician, who attended him, said he could cure him, although he had been under his attendance when the disease made its first appearance; and instead of curing him, he grew worse, and, finally, the sore broke, and has since continued to discharge, until I got Dr. MOTT'S VEGETABLE LIVER PILLS. He commenced using them about one year ago; and in less than three months he was well; and instead of a weak, delicate child, he is now well, healthy and robust. Yours, truly, JAMES ALLEN.

Railroad Suggestions

The following letter contains many valuable hints, and we especially hope that the suggestion in regard to the cession of the public lands to the States, will be speedily and favorably considered by Congress

To Hon J W Nesmith—Dear Sir I sincerely hope our orators are mistaken — I hope no foreign war will follow the rebellion and that the Pacific States will not in this generation, be the seat of any war domestic or foreign That the blood necessarily shed to make us a homogenous people, and to give to all parts of our own country civil and religious liberty is all that is required of us at present, and the deep wounds inflicted upon us as a nation by the rebellion, may be allowed to heal in peace

Though a Railroad connection with California may not be needed for war purposes Mr Elliott's labors will not be lost He has awakened the people of Oregon to their great need of roads of all kinds and in all directions

The tide of wealth and population has at last begun to flow into our State We have on our Statute book a corporation law which gives liberal encouragement to the investment of capital in these enterprises and I have no doubt the discussion of Mr Elliott's project and the competition excited by the probable location of the Road, will hasten the commencement of these needed enterprises

Under the impression that a Company, aided by the Government and controlled by foreign capitalists, may build a Railroad from the Columbia to the Sacramento river and knowing such Company will be governed solely by its interest a lively rivalry directly exists between the different routes that may be chosen, and even Portland, the only port in the State deserving the name of "city" is not sure to be a terminus The commerce that is making it rich and populous may be drawn away by a city on the Columbia river, at the terminus of a Railroad running through all the rich valleys of Oregon, to California and this terminus may be anywhere from the mouth of Sandy above, to St Helens below where the Company choose to lay out a new city, of which itself will be the proprietor So of towns in the Willamette valley, though on the same side of the river the Road may run If they get the Road they must expect to pay not only the difference of cost, if any is made in passing through them but also as large a sum as the Company would expect to realize from town sites of their own at their depots

This state of uncertainty will lead to a thorough examination of the different routes proposed, and the commercial value of both sides of the Willamette river and where a large sum of money is to be expended upon the result, something more definite will be required than loose reconnoisances and rough estimates This knowledge is needed preliminary to the undertaking of any system of improvements by the people of Oregon themselves, and in this connection I must express the opinion that while we should gratefully accept any assistance the Government sees proper to give us, we should avoid as much as possible the use of capital owned or controlled out of the State

While it should not be asked of you to take part in these local rivalries, I think the time now propitious for the passage through Congress of a general law, which will be of great advantage to all the new States as well as your own I mean the ceding of the public lands to the States in which they lie

Heretofore this measure has been defeated by the States having no public lands within their limits, on the ground of injustice they claiming that all the States have an equal right to the proceeds of the public lands

But since the public lands have ceased to be a source of revenue, it seems to me this, and all other opposition to the measure will be withdrawn, if the new proprietors guarantee the faithful observance of the homestead, pre emption, and all other laws, made for the benefit of the settler, miner, and the education of the rising generation

Nor would it lessen the value of the gift to the new States, if Congress also restricted the application of the lands or their proceeds to the purposes of internal improvements By thus restricting the gift, the government may greatly increase the wealth of the new States, and thereby its own revenues, without cost to itself, or injury or injustice to the old States of the Union; and as improvements made for the purposes of commerce are just such as are needed in war, should the public lands be given to the State, a few years hence—should that dread calamity visit us—we shall have Railroads every where, needed to collect supplies and move armies,

Very Truly Yours,

MATRIMONIAL HINTS —Now of course now you're married you can eat onions I allus did, and if I know my own heart, I allus will My daughter, who is goin' on 17, and is frisky, says they are disgustin And speakin of my daughter reminds me that quite a number of young men have suddenly discovered that I'm a very entertainin old feller, and they visit us frekently, 'specially on Sunday evenins. One young chap—a lawyer by habit—don't cum as much as he did My wife's father lives with us His intelleck totters a little, and he saves the papers containin the proceedins of our State Logislater The old gen'l'man likes to read out loud, and he reads tol'ble well He eats hash freely, which makes his voice clear, but as he unfortinitly has to spell the most of his words, I may say he reads slow Wall, whenever this lawyer made his appearance I would set the old man a readin the Legislative reports I kept the young lawyer up one night till 12 o clock listenin to a lot of acts in regard to a draw bridge away orf in the east part of the State, havin sent my daughter to bed at half past 8 He hasn't bin there since and I understand he says I go round swindlin the Public

I never attempted to reorganize my wife but once I shall never attempt it agin I'd bin to a public dinner, and had allowed myself to be betrayed into drinkin several people's healths and wishin to make em robust as possible, I continerd drinkin their healths until my own became affected Consekens was I presented myself at Betsy's bedside late at night with consid'ble licker concealed about my person I had somehow got persesshun of a hoss whip on my way home, and rememberin sum cranky observations of Mrs Ward's in the mornin, I snapt the whip putty lively, and in a very loud voice, I said, "Betsy, you need reorganizin! I have cum, Betsy," I continued—crackin the whip over the bed—"I have cum to reorganize you! Have you per[illegible] to nite?" * * *

I dreamed that nite that sumbody had laid a hoss whip over me sev[illegible] times and when I woke up I found she had I hain't drank much of anythin' since, and if I ever have ano her reorganizin job on hand I shall let it out My wife is fifty two years old, and has allus sustained a good character She's a good cook Her mother lived to a venerable age, and died while in the act of frying slap jacks for the County Commissioners And may no rood hand pluk a flour from her toom stun! We hain't got any picter of the old lady because she'd never stand for her ambrotipe, and therefore I can't giv her likeness to the world through the meejum of the illustrated papers, but as she wasn't a Brigadier General particklerly, I don't s'pose they'd publish it anyhow

It's best to give a woman considerable lee way But not too much A naber of mine, Mr Rufus Minkins was once very sick with the fever but his wife moved his bed into the door yard while she was cleanin' house I told Rufus this wasn't the thing specially as it was rainin violently but he said he wanted to give his wife a little lee way That was too mutch I told Mrs Minkins that her Rufus would die, if he stayed out there in the rain mutch longer when she said "it shan't be my fault if he dies unprepared"—at the same time tossin him his mother's Bible It was orful! I stood by however, and nussed him as well as I could, but I was a putty wet nuss I tell you

There's varis ways of managin a wife but the best and only safe way is to let her do just as she wants to I adopted that there plan sum time ago, and it works like a charm

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters a host of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor whisky vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics Stomachics and Bitters

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters which instead of curing only aggravate disease and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters prepared by Dr C M Jackson of this city because I was prejudiced against them for many years under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker Esq for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before and had almost despaired of regaining I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists published almost daily in the newspapers on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters"

PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1862.

Messrs Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R B Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer "State of Maine," from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything and if I did force a morsel down it was immediately thrown up again

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr Frederick Steinbron of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters and kindly procured a bottle From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded and I am now, thank God, for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles I have gained ten pounds and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement as we had despaired of seeing our comrade Mr Malone restored to life
